

How Employers Can Show Support for Mental Health: Tysons-based Employers and National Mental Health Leaders Share their Progress with Mental Health Movement in the Workplace

Meet our Speakers

May 27, 2021 - Mental Health Awareness Month Panel

Erin Sarin

Head of Benefits and Wellbeing, The MITRE Corporation

Erin is a business strategy and Human Resources professional responsible for the strategic leadership and management of a global benefits, retirement and awards and recognition strategy that supports a diverse and multi-generational workforce. Erin leads the vision and strategy execution within The MITRE Corporation—a Forbes “Americas Best Employers” winner for four consecutive years, Boston Globe “Top Places to Work” winner for ten consecutive years, and Washington Post “Top Places to Work” for four consecutive years. Prior to joining MITRE in 2016, she served as a benefits program consultant for a decade, helping a wide range of companies to align policies to their distinct employee value proposition while maintaining market competitiveness. Erin studied Psychology at Loyola University in New Orleans and holds an MBA from Northeastern University in Boston, MA.

Dan Scheinkman

Vice President, Compensation, Benefits, and Well-Being, Freddie Mac

Dan Scheinkman is Vice President of Compensation, Benefits, and Well-Being at Freddie Mac. Since joining in 2003, Dan has been responsible for the design, administration, and communication of compensation, to include executive compensation, and benefits programs. As a seasoned HR practitioner, Dan delivers solutions that recognizes the right impact with the right rewards positively affecting employees’ total well-being.

Prior to joining Freddie Mac, Dan worked for Ernst & Young and Arthur Andersen providing consulting services to organizations in the areas of compensation and equity incentive program design, litigation and bankruptcy support, and merger and acquisition impact and integration. Dan holds a bachelor’s degree in Business Administration from Washington University in St. Louis.

Christine Maginnis

VP, HR Strategy and Operations, Hilton

Christine is the VP, HR Strategy and Operations at Hilton where she oversees a team committed to furthering Hilton's innovative, best-in-class people programs by leveraging Team Member insights and data driven trends. She is responsible for core areas such as HR Strategy development, Workplace Solutions, HRIS, HR Shared Services, and People Analytics. Most importantly, Christine is responsible for humanizing data and quantifying and amplifying the impact Hilton's people program is having on its Team Members both in and outside of the office.

Christine joined Hilton in 2012, leading the Financial Planning & Analysis team. While in this role, Christine supported Hilton's Initial Public Offering in 2013 as well as the corporate restructuring to spin off Hilton's owned assets to a Real Estate Investment Trust in 2017.

Prior to Hilton, Christine spent more than five years at Lockheed Martin in roles focused on financial reporting, program finance/operations, and international business development.

Jessica Edwards

Director of External Relations, NAMI

Jessica Edwards is the Director of External Relations at NAMI. She is passionate about increasing awareness about mental health and wants mental health conditions to be treated as any other medical issue. She focuses her talents on building relationships with NAMI's corporate, strategic and foundation partners. She has been with NAMI for nearly a decade.

She holds a bachelor's in public relations from West Virginia University, and a master's in public relations and corporate communications from Georgetown University.

Summer Parrish

Interim-CEO, NAMI-Northern Virginia

Summer is the interim-CEO of NAMI-Northern Virginia. She has nearly 25 years' experience in fundraising, development, and public relations mostly in health and human services in the Greater DC Region. She is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate from the University of South Carolina with a bachelor's degree in Journalism and holds a master's degree in Literature from Marymount University as well as a certificate in Planned Giving from UC Davis. She is passionate about laughing with her family, learning through travel, and good coffee.